By Inquirer Northern Luzon

LA TRINIDAD, PANGLOSS—AS MATURUS lay was collected through massive flooding in Benguet and widespread flooding in Pangloss on Thursday and Friday, local government officials were shocked by the extent of the devastation in their areas.

As the weather started to improve on Saturday, many local officials said the disaster had caught them unprepared. Benguet officials were disappointed during and after the onslaught of "Pepeng" as a tropical depression—giving assistance to victims and leading rescue operations—but they acknowledged they were ill-prepared for the extent of the damage.

The Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) said it would need over a billion pesos to repair and rebuild roads and bridges damaged by Pepeng and Tropical Storm "Ondoy".

Initial reports from regional DPWH offices showed that the agency would need about P1.42 billion to repair the damaged and destroyed infrastructure in Luzon, according to Public Works Secretary Hermenegildo Blas Jr.

Irish missionary abducted in Pagadian

By Julie S. Alayde and Ryan D. Rosendo Inquirer Mindanao

ZAMBOANGA CITY—THE 61-year-old priest had just had dinner and was standing on the lawn of the convent when armed men burst in, demanding to see him.

Before anyone in the religious compound could do anything, the intruders had seized Irish missionary Michael Sison, hauled him into a van and fled on a boat in the latest attack on a foreign missionary in Mindanao.

The apparently well-planned kidnapping took place in the compound of the Missionary Society of St. Columban in Pagadian City at around 7 p.m., Sunday police said.

As of yesterday afternoon, authorities said they still had no firm clues as to who were responsible.

Police gave chase but failed to catch up with the armed group. Instead, they found the kidnappers' getaway car on fire.

"The reason, probably, for burning the vehicle was to obstruct our law enforcement who were pursuing them," Chief Insp. Agustin Angeles, police

Dam managers face raps

San Roque spill blamed for floods

By Nikita Dixon

WATER EQUIVALENT TO A BILLION BALIKBAYAN boxes tumbling at the rate of 5,000 cartons per second hit 10 hapless towns in Pangloss on Thursday when the San Roque dam spillways were opened amid a storm drenching and swirling floodwaters, scientists say.

Now, administrators of the dam owned by National Power Corp. (Napocor) and operated by the San Roque Multipurpose Project (SRMP) are going to be deluged with various criminal and civil suits being prepared by town residents and provincial officials.

Gov. Arnold Espino Jr. yesterday said the provincial government was looking for San Roque officials to court for the widespread destruction that last week's flooding worsened with the opening of the spillways.

"I have asked our lawyers to prepare a suit," Espino said.

For people to visualize how much water was released from the dam, Catherine Aben, a geologist from the University of the Philippines and member of Agham, an organization of local scientists, said that one cubic meter of water was much like one billion kilograms.

With odd climate, experts suggest altering lifestyles

SEEDS ARE SOWN DURING THE rainy season, then yield a bountiful harvest months later. Crops start in June and workers look forward to a hot summer harvest.

When harvesters go on-site as Christmas season, they are asked away in the chaos for most of the year.

Imagine a world where all these predictable cycles no longer apply.

With extreme weather conditions now baffling scientists and posing a challenge to policy makers, it's probably time to re-examine traditional notions about the country's weather patterns—and ultimately, their influence on the Filipino way of life.

A government scientist yesterday launched the idea of a "multi-stakeholder" consultation to be held later this month to come up with an effective, consolidated response to natural calamities.

"Climate calamity is now more of the rule rather than the

Food, gas finally reach Baguio

By Inquirer Northern Luzon

BAGUIO CITY—DRESSED in slacks, polo and costumes of people were stopped and held by policemen so they could be taken over a 60-meter boulder on Marcos Highway and ease food and gas shortages in the city isolated for days by flooding and landslides.

Since Saturday, trucks have been working to resupply Baguio with goods from Metro Manila after landslides triggered by Tropical Storm "Pepeng" blocked the three main access roads to the city—Marcos Highway, Naguilan Road and Aurora Road.

Government officials had wanted to feed up the city's food supplies, but the emergency residents of Talay, Benguet, moved earlier, setting up the policy system to haul meat and fish from Pangloss and La Union and containers of gasoline strapped on a long cable.

Engineers and volunteer workers opened a lane of Karsen Road on Sunday afternoon, a day earlier than the Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) had promised President Manuel Arroyo.

The city government then asked supply trucks to queue on the road at midnight because of anticipated heavy traffic from motorists leaving the city and residents returning. Baguio,

FROM A SEPTUAGENARIAN who believes she was miraculously given a new lease on life to a preschooler who could barely say "Mama Mary," Filipinos of different backgrounds and ages sought out their favorite images of the Blessed Virgin Mary at an exhibit organized by Radio Veritas.

Jan Devenadina, 73, wept as she came across a life-size image of the Our Lady of Pain, one of the 200 Marian images presented at the 4th Grand Marian Exhibit ongoing at the SM Mall of Asia in Pasay City.

"Wow, I finally found you,"

she cried in Filipino.

A Marian devotee, Devenadina said that for many years, she had been wanting to organize a pilgrimage to the shrine of the miraculous icon near Tagaytay City in Cagayan.

"She answered all my prayers. I was able to change my life for the better. I am so grateful, I could cry," she said in Filipino.

Celia Feyside, 21, like many others who were inside the exhibit area, took pictures of several of the Marian images. He said he would print these pictures and put them on his home altar.

GK heroes leave no one behind during calamity

By Michael E. Uric

"WAGAN BAHAGAN SERBE sa mga kahitad!"

With this motto, thousands of General Edgardo Jara's volunteers, coordinators and donors paid tribute to disaster victims who lost a beloved family member or a loved one in the wake of Tropical Storm "Nepitika."

And with an official and Central Luzon still reeling from the devastation of Typhoon "Tepeng," Jara's volunteers and donors paid tribute to disaster victims who lost a loved one in the wake of Tropical Storm "Nepitika."

"To give care," is dedicated to helping poor families build their own homes. Founded by the Catholic group Caritas Luzon in 2005, it provides a community development model based on volunteerism in the spirit of "Caritas Internationalis."

The message of hope amid the sea of destruction, death and despair that subsided Luzon over the past two weeks was the message of "GK Heroes 2009" held at Fort Bonifacio in Taguig City.

"We will rise from the devastation because we are here to help and comfort," said Marcos to the GK volunteers.

This year's expo is the sixth held by the movement to pay tribute to volunteers and donors from all walks of life—the military, business and disaster relief organizations.

In 2006, "GK Heroes" the theme of building 700,000 houses in 7,000 communities in seven years has launched at the first GK Expo.

The late former President Gerardo Aquino declared that "GK is a people's dream."

At yesterday's expo, Marcos and many volunteers told how GK communities emerged as heroes in the local calamity.

"Those who worked help were the ones who helped helped their neighbors," he said, adding that 90 members of GK communities in Pangasinan, Marikina helped about 10,000 displaced families in nearby areas.

"We are quickly helping one another to help," he said.

The President said he was added his voice to the nation's rebuilding efforts.

"We must stay motivated, staying strong (disaster) brings peace, inner as our belief," he said.

He paid tribute to the ordinary people who persisted while helping their neighbors in the height of "Nepitika's" onslaught.

In his remarks, Aquino said the "biggest tragedy" was not the loss of lives, but the impact of poverty on the victims.

"We are not only living in the dark, homeless, homeless," he said.

"Opinion columnist (GK) is one in and poverty for five million Filipinos in 20 years."

"We will rise from the devastation," he said, explaining that many would "advocate people from disaster areas" instead of allowing them to return to their displaced homes as "in and out for the next disaster."

From the GK Expo, he said 1,200 children from disaster areas will be taken to the GK Expo.

Laguna rice fields to stay submerged

SAN PEDRO, LAGUNA—ABOUT 7,000 hectares of non-producing areas in Laguna will remain unproductive until the flood brought on by Tropical Storm "Ondoy" subsides, according to specialized officials.

The flooding caused by the swollen Laguna Lake is expected to last for months.

As of Tuesday, the provincial agricultural office recorded 56,335 acres of rice lost to the flood.

Provincial agricultural officer Marvin Salinas said 800 ha of land in Malabon town were still submerged in some 3.5M ha in Isabela and 9 ha in Iba.

Wine fields in Magdi, Malib, Lumban and Kibara—the three producing municipalities in Laguna—were also under water.

The submerged fields are mostly irrigated by Laguna Lake.

Although the flood in the Malabon town has receded, about 1,000 ha of its land had not returned to normal, the officials said.

"The trouble is so bad, it will require deep plowing and not by ordinary hand tractors," Salinas said.

He said that crops in San Pedro were "almost totally" washed out by the rising flood and that it would take people until November to drain the mud about six inches thick.

From the longest reach to the town even covered with dirt. "If there could be deep water, the mud is about six inches thick," Salinas said.

Laguna lost about 70 percent of its rice requirements from other provinces because it's a self-sufficient area (San Pedro) was only 30 percent.

The damage caused by the flooding has reduced rice production to 23 percent, Salinas said.

He said the damage in agriculture in Laguna would affect the country's rice production and the government will have to be dependent on foreign rice.

Most of the damaged crops were almost ready for harvest before Ondoy struck Laguna on Sept. 26.

"[I]f the flood subsides, the land can be recovered and can be used for planting again," Salinas said. Marivic Chua, mayor of San Pedro, said.

Speaker Prosper Nogueira said the lower house was also considering attending in Christmas party and donating the money to victims of the disasters. The Senate had earlier announced it would not hold any parties this year.

During the appropriations committee hearing, Missouri Rep. W. Ross Hargrave and Illinois Rep. Tom Harkin questioned the propriety of allocating the large amount of $2 billion for a constitutional convention. Hargrave at one point asked the committee to consider:

"We don't want this proposal to be wrong in the continuing cost picture. It looks like a beautiful move as appropriate: a large sum of money . . . Surely there's a way, there could be a supplemental budget, somewhere deep the list. We have avoided the traps of oversimplifying the message that's not ours."

The LPG Bill

MORE ABOUT PROTECTING THE LPG CYLINDER BUSINESS OF THE OIL MAJORS & MANUFACTURERS

LESS ABOUT PROTECTING THE FILIPINO CONSUMER

Cheaper LPG does not mean it is underfilled or unsafe. Independent players sell reasonably-priced LPG because their profit margin is low and because their distribution chain is more simple, thereby reducing cost. As of 12 October 2009, comparative average prices of 11 kg LPG are as follows:

|------------------------------|
| Gasul - P580.00              |
| Shellane - P590.00           |
| Independent Player - P520.00 |

A consumer should not be prevented from buying an LPG brand that has a lower price by exchanging an empty LPG cylinder bearing a different brand. That would be ANTI-CONSUMER. The oil companies supporting the LPG Bill say consumers do not own their LPG cylinders and must therefore purchase LPG only from them. That would assure the MONOPOLY of these companies.

The LPG bill requires from a consumer who claims ownership of the LPG cylinder to show written proof. Any ordinary household owner knows he has no such document and if ever he has, he would not keep it like the title to his house. If the oil companies want to uphold the freedom of the consumers to choose and shift to other brands of LPG based on price and availability, these oil companies should REFUND the cost of the LPG cylinder upon surrender to them without requiring any written proof.

The alleged 6 million substandard LPG cylinders is peddled as fact. Where did the figure come from? Is this properly documented and verified? Could this be exaggerated to railroad the passage of the LPG bill to benefit cylinder manufacturers?

There is no need to pass the LPG bill to address the issue of fires related to LPG. Various tests show that LPG cylinders do not explode. The fire is caused by defective hoses, cylinder valves left open and incorrect installation of regulators. Information campaign on proper handling is more important. The LPG bill if passed will not promote public welfare and safety. It will promote the interest of oil companies supporting the bill and cylinder manufacturers, with the view to eliminate the independent players and bring back monopoly.

E. Samar starts back-to-province scheme

By Vicente Labo
Inquirer Manila

TAAGARAN CITY—THE EASTERN SAMAR PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT will encourage former residents, who failed to find a better life in Metro Manila and other urban areas, to return to the province.

In an interview here on Sunday, Gov. Jose B. Sison said the provincial administration is divided to launch the work, the back-to-the-province program, in response to the program, the provincial government would provide transportation for all members of the family and provide livelihood and entrepreneurial training in rural areas through the Technical Education and Skills Development Authority (TESDA) and the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI).

After the training, the province will also provide their children who are already in college, he said.

Upon completion of the training and services, the provincial government will provide the monthly allowance of P10,000 to start-up capital for the families, P20,000 for the purchase of housing materials, such as iron sheets and bamboo, and other agricultural inputs, Sison said.

Subsidies to a local bank system will also be provided their children who are already in college, he said.

The family will not go back yet if they only become laborers because we have a lot of unutilized resources in the province," Sison said.

He said the province would try to do up with national government agencies, especially those with micro-financing programs.

Sison said that the provincial government's last year to help the typhoon victims granted P300,000 from the provincial government and P30,000 from the Philippine National Police, which were turned over to the Department of Social Welfare and Development.

Sison said he would like to see the province's economy take shape and to attract investment to the province, he said.

Sulfur dioxide, quakes show Mayon more restive

By Vicente Labo

LEGASPI CITY—SULFUR DIOXIDE (SO<sub>2</sub>) and quakes showed that Mayon volcano continued to be an unpleasant case of restiveness, said the Philippine Institute of Volcanology and Seismology on Monday.

A Plinian eruption on Monday had the volcano released 300 tons of sulfur dioxide during the past 24 hours, a reading which was way above the 100 tons recorded normally.

The sulfur dioxide escaping from Mt. Mayon indicated a fluctuating trend ranging from 300 to 500 tons per day.

There were 100 tons per day recorded on Oct. 10, 101 tons on Oct. 11, and 100 tons on Oct. 12.

SO<sub>2</sub> is a gas that is released from the volcano during an eruption. It is a colorless, odorless gas that is heavier than air and can be harmful to humans and animals.

Lions subdue Stags, force duel for No.1

By Jeanette M. Pags

AS SAN BEDA'S BAM CASABRERA scored off a crucial shot in the dwindling seconds, the Red Lions also emerged as the sole lead in the San Beda Stags' bid to win the title.

The Lions were on to play the Stags with a thrilling 71-67 triumph and edged it to the top spot at the end of the 2009 season basketball season, ending yesterday at the Jockey Club FRODO/MyV Arena in San Beda.

With the victory, the Lions not only claimed the remaining two-on-one semifinal advantage, but also earned a shot at claiming the No. 1 seed in a playoff against the Stags at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

The winner of the Lions Stags duel will roll on to the fourth-round Lions Knights in the final, while the losing team will clash with the Red Lions in the semifinals in the other semifinal match occurring Friday.

American underdog Andre Dancel paced the Lions with 19 points, 11 rebounds and five blocks.

But it was Casabrer's basket in the last 10.1 seconds that clinched a 67-62 defeat.

Camabrer, a reserve center, scored an increased leap off a shot from San Sebastian star Jerrold Anderson for a 65-57 San Beda lead.

Borgie Hernandez pulled four fouls after three fouls with four shots remaining in the 10.1 seconds after the Stags have advance to the semifinals.

Final Score

| Team     | Points | Rebounds | Assists | Blocks | Steals | Fouls |
|----------|--------|----------|---------|--------|--------|-------|
| San Beda | 71     | 35       | 15      | 10     | 12     | 20    |

the game with clutch shot.

"Defensive stops were very important in our strategy. The players did a good job," said San Beda coach Francis Lee.

The lone subfield Aguilar, after leads the league in scoring at 30.0 points, in a single shot for the first time this season.

Aguilar, one of the leading 2009 scorers, wound up with eight points on a 1-4 10-pointing shot.

The Lions rolled from an eight-point deficit, 34-42, scoring midway only 11 of 31 free throws in the victory.

The Red Lions paced the game for a San Beda win by dominating the Stags, 30-10, in the second half.

Stags' star player, Andre Dancel, scored 19 points in a 20-point game.

Flood damage in Cainta hits P100M

Recovery could take 6 months to a year, says mayor

By G. Lopez

THE TOWN OF CAINTA SUFFERED PROPERTY LOSSES OF UP TO P100 million, particularly in infrastructure, after Tropical Storm "Gladys" devastated Rinal and eastern Metro Manila more than two weeks ago, according to Cainta Mayor Ramon "Mico" Ilagan.

"You will never see the damage that the typhoon had caused after government facilities and infrastructure such as health centers, multipurpose halls, school buildings and the like, the damage could easily hit up to a staggering P100 million," he said.

Ilagan's estimate was about five times the estimated damage of P20 million to P30 million, but the mayor said that report was incomplete and accounted only for damaged roads and highways.

"The way I see it, it would take six months to a full year to get things back to their former state and then clean Cainta fully recovered from 'On day,'" he said in a statement.

He added that at least the mayor said that the town would be able to recover from the damage.

Ilagan said, the town would probably take six months to a full year to get things back to their former state and then clean Cainta fully recovered from "On day," he said in a statement.

"The town to get the cleaning operations over and done with as soon as possible," he said.

He said the town had more than 200 workers for the cleanup drive. The town government also had the help of private companies and volunteers to help in the cleanup drive.

At the same time, Ilagan appealed for the immediate restoration of regular power supply in Cainta following Manila Electric Co. (Meralco) report that power lines in the area of Cainta were damaged.

One of the four transmission lines of the Manila Electric Co. (Meralco) in Cainta was damaged in the area of Cainta. The town government is now working to restore power to the area.

London rooftop protesters arrested

LONDON—BRITISH POLICE ARRESTED 20 environmental protesters who climbed onto the roof of the House of Commons, the home in a series of arrests launched by the police in Britain.

The demonstrators from Greenpeace, demanding more government action on climate change, were held on suspicion of trespassing on a government site after they climbed down, the Metropolitan Police said on Thursday.

They had used balloons to scale in the roof of the sprawling Parliament complex beside the river Thames and unfurled large red banners saying "Change the policy—Save the climate."

Greenpeace said 50 of its activists were sent to jail for a "new wave of protests in Britain" when MPs return from their summer break on Monday after 28 protesters remain on the roof.

In February 2008, protesters opposed to the expansion of the Hinkley Point A nuclear power station in Devon and Cornwall argued that the roof of Parliament and other rights organizations pulled down. Prime Minister Gordon Brown said people should respect the House of Commons in 2008.

Greenpeace said the remaining protesters plan to stay until 10:00 a.m. on Monday, but they decided to leave early and what they planned to do before scaling the building. Reuters

Pakistani police had warned about raid on HQ

DEAHMAD—THE MATTERED OF the military assault on Taliban headquarters had been the focus of the Pakistani military for weeks. But the raid on the Taliban's main base in the Swat valley, the police had typically warned the military in July that such an assault was being planned, police and intelligence officials said on Sunday.

The revelation of prior warning was seen to weaken the military's ability to fight soldiers, after the military's heavy artillery launched the military's heavy artillery complex in Swat valley and held dozens of hostages for 20 hours until a commando raid ended the siege. In all, 15 people were killed, including eight of the militants, the military said.

The military, which was expected to launch the assault, was identified as Muhammad Agha, who officials said was a former soldier and the planner of the attack and others, said, who the doctors in a Lahore hospital had been seen with the army Medical Corps before dropping an assault force in the valley, he believed to be a member of Taliban's Shura, a militant group affiliated with al-Qaida and the Pakistani Taliban.

Looming information glut threatens computer science

MONTEVIDEO, URUGUAY—Researchers and workers in fields as diverse as health care, agriculture and computer science will find themselves overwhelmed with information, better computers and greater resources as an information glut threatens to swamp the world's computer science.

While computers are just starting to cope with the sheer volume of data, computer scientists are struggling to manage a deluge of data, computer scientists are struggling to manage a deluge of data, computer scientists are struggling to manage a deluge of data.

Pope canonizes leper priest, 4 others

ROME—POPE BENEDICT XVI canonized five Catholics on Saturday, including a 19th-century leper priest who worked with leprosy victims.

In his homily, Benedict said the faithful to learn from the leprosy victims of these saints, who were called to "be with the leprosy victims in the world."

A large delegation from France attended the ceremony, including a French cardinal who received from the pope a letter of commendation to the French people, said the Vatican.

T-bill yields drop across the board

Macondray share price up 50%

By David C. Dunbar

MANCRAFT INDUSTRIES PLANTED BET the seed in the stock market yesterday on the heels of an expected bullish listing of a venture of former Trade Minister Roberto O. Duterte.

Macondray's share price yesterday jumped by 50 percent, the steepest increase observed in the stock market, to close at P1 per share. About 1,000 shares were traded in the market.

The company's share price has been trading since September, ahead of an announcement that Duterte's IPO Capital Ventures Corp. had bought a deal to buy 10 percent of Macondray's equity for P2.50 per share for P16.74 million.

Other than the offer by IPO Capital, the company said it was not aware of any new development related to its investment plan.

However, the firm said it expects to be a player in the Philippine stock exchange.

However, the firm said it expects to be a player in the Philippine stock exchange.

the offer, it will not be the group's main P1.1 billion.

Based on yesterday's listing, Macondray has a market capitalization of P100 million.

Both the financial closing of the latest agreement and the completion of the sale offer are expected by Nov. 11 this year.

"The company has been added to the management of IPO Capital that as the incoming majority shareholder of the firm, the management of IPO Capital is evaluating the diversification of the company by investing in other areas, specifically property development," Macondray said.

Duterte's group has been committed to develop an ongoing construction by the company while still in the real estate business into a fully owned subsidiary called Macondray Plastic Products Inc. The new unit will continue to manufacture, import and sell plastic products.

Products from the deal will go mainly to existing Macondray shareholders.

Macondray, which will come to be branded, will increase its capital depending on the returns it will undertake under the group's plan.

BTr raised P6.5B as planned

TRANSURE BELATEDLY SUFFERED when down across the board, with the yield on the benchmark 91-day T-bill falling by 0.5 basis points to an average of 3.07 percent.

The yield on the 91-day T-bill fell by 0.5 basis points to 3.07 percent while that for the 364-day term dropped by 3.7 basis points to 5.34 percent.

National Treasurer Florencio B. Trivedi said that the report of all tenders in the T-bill auction held on Sept. 28 was a strong signal to investors that the government was not about to raise rates to curb inflation.

The auction's outcome demonstrated the government's position that it was ready to raise rates to curb inflation.

Governor jet skis to save lives

By Flora C. Enriquez

A JET SKIER, LYNTE GOV CARLOS JAVIERA "Jax" Derrila has learned the secrets of the deep sea and even the murky waters of Metro Manila. But his biggest challenge was surviving the floods in Marikina, endangered by submerged water, garbage and toxic wastes at the height of Tropical Storm "Ondoy."

Derrila was originally a river-jumping aficionado in Cebu, but he got bored when swimmers were more interested in the car's engine size rather than the driver's skill.

Two years ago, he took up an outdoor sport, jet skiing, albeit offshore, where the

His is a passion/fitness regimen that was put to good use in the calamity conditions are far from glossy. The sport has not only given him an adrenaline rush and proven his creativity. During emergency, his personal watercraft (PWC) has helped save communities.

A sportsman, Derrila has moved from Cebu to Leyte and Lopez to Pasig. He even tested his limits by riding the rough waters during typhoons signed No. 1.

"It's not advisable. We were 10 minutes before going toward the deep sea. The conditions were violent," he recalls.

He has even challenged himself on land. "For this, we are supposed to run on the streets of Metro Manila but I find the chaos. You can't move because the streets are narrow, making it harder to turn and there's so much traffic."

In government, Derrila uses his three jet skis to look for relief operations in Cebu's coastal barangays where roads are inaccessible. After a typhoon, it would take a long wheel drive some 100 miles to reach the barangays in two or three days. With his jet ski, Derrila covers the barangays in eight hours.

"I immediately need to move the barangay officials and set up the situation so that we can bring relief goods. You don't want to do a relief operation three days after."
